

6. It is strictly forbidden at any time whether before, during or after matches of the Tournament to:

(a) record and/or transmit any sound, image and/or description of the stadium and/or the relevant match (as well as any results and/or statistics of the relevant match) for any commercial purpose other than solely for editorial news reporting purposes in permitted publications (as defined in Appendix 1) without the prior written approval of UEFA; and/or

(b) transmit any still and/or moving images of the relevant match for any purposes without the prior written approval of UEFA. No such materials may be formatted for viewing on any mobile devices (such as mobile telephones and PDAs) or on any Internet site other than in accordance with clause 8 below.

7. Any live audio transmission of matches of the Tournament, via Internet and wireless technology, or the sale or distribution of any commentary of matches of the Tournament on any media, is expressly prohibited unless specifically authorised by UEFA via this accreditation or otherwise.

8. Only photographs taken by officially accredited photographers may be published on permitted publications via the Internet (as defined in Appendix 1) as long as they appear as stills and not as moving pictures, quasi-video streaming or slide shows. Notwithstanding the foregoing, photographs published on permitted publications via the Internet (as defined in Appendix 1) shall have an interval of at least 20 seconds between the postings of each such photograph.

Appendix 1

Permitted Publications

1. An ordinary edition of any newspaper and/or any special supplement (not sold separately) to any such newspaper provided that it is of no larger dimensions than the newspaper to which it supplements and that it is not based solely on any team, any player(s) and/or any match any team has played or will play.
2. A special edition of a newspaper (as set out in paragraph 1 of this Appendix) being an issue of such a newspaper specific to any locality where content relating to a match is incorporated into the general content of the newspaper.
3. A magazine or periodical publication produced at regular intervals and not devoted solely to any team, any player(s) and/or any match any team has played or will play.
4. A book not devoted solely to any team, any player(s) and/or any match any team has played or will play.
5. Advertising, promotional, marketing and point-of-sale materials for any items set out in paragraphs 1 to 4 and 7 of this Appendix.
6. An online Internet equivalent of any of the permitted publications set out in paragraphs 1 to 4 of this Appendix.
7. An unrestricted public Internet site providing equivalent services to the publications set out in paragraphs 1 to 3 of this Appendix, which is duly authorised by UEFA.
